

SMITH
Executive Education

EMPOWERING WOMEN LEADERS

CUSTOM PROGRAMS

About Custom Programs

Smith Executive Education brings over 40 years of experience in helping advance women through the leadership pipeline.

Your high-potential talent, emerging leaders, and existing leaders will be equipped with the tools they need for success, now and for years to come. Through faculty presentations, experiential sessions, individual practice, and group discussions participants are instilled with theory, skills, and experiences that propel them in their professional lives and beyond.

Participants return ready to articulate their leadership vision and carry out career-transforming action plans developed throughout the program.

Curriculum Topics

We collaborate closely with you to explore your specific strategic executive development needs. We then create custom curriculum for your team, and help you identify candidate selection criteria that will ensure a highly productive program and effective outcome.

Topics may include, but are not limited to:

- Strategy and innovation
- Finance
- Negotiation
- Decision making
- Emotional Intelligence
- Change management
- Communication
- Multi-cultural competence
- Work-life integration
- Networking for Success

Who Attends

Depending on your goals and needs, cohorts may be comprised of women at similar or varying points in their careers, whether emerging, mid-level, or senior executives.

Our Faculty

All sessions are taught by world renowned experts who bring tremendous depth and breadth of experience in both academic and global business settings.

Continuous Learning

Learning doesn't end when the program is over. Alumnae are given exclusive access to learning circles, workshops and webinars, all designed to support and enhance the professional connections and learnings they establish in our programs.

TO LEARN MORE, CONTACT: Meredith Courtney, mcourtney@smith.edu, (413)585-2586

<https://execed.smith.edu/smith-custom-programs>

“

“The Smith programs exceeded my expectations in every way. It truly got to the core of what leadership is and should be. Women return energized, and ready to lead with inspiration! I give it my highest review.”

2019 PARTNER